McCreary Asks Beckham a Question.

Senator James B. McCreary spoke at Mt. Sterling Monday to a large crowd. His speech was along the same line as his Henderson speech, reviewing his record as Governor, Congressman and Senator and asking the endorsement of that record by the Democrats of the State. He devoted some time to national issues and then paid his respects to his opponent, Gov. Beckham, substantially as he did in his Henderson speech and then made the following statement which did not appear in his Henderson speech:

"Gov. Beckham, in his desperation and in his reckless efforts to obtain votes in his race for United States Senator, said in his speech at Lexington that I have been active with the whisky interest and lawless element and pardon brokers and that I have organized them and received pecuniary aid from them and that I have sought to stir up a whirlwind in the ranks of the Democratic party and petitions have been presented for men to pledge themselves against him and newspapers are to be brought to oppose him. I was surprised that Gov. Beckham should lose his usual control of himself and resort to such statements as these, but truth and candor compel me to say the statements just referred to are absolutely untrue and I denounce them as utterly and absolutely without foundation. I have never asked or received pecuniary aid from the whisky interest in the present race for United States Senator, nor in any race I have made for the office in the past. I would like to know if Gov. Beckham can say the same."

Carpenter-Gibson

Miss Iro Carpenter and Mr. Charles Hyatt Gibson, of Washington, Ind., were united in marriage at the home of the bride, near North Middletown, on Monday evening, Elder C. W. Dick the officiating minister.

The bride is one of Bourbon's handsomest young women and daughter of Mrs. Mary Carpenter. The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents, the mother and sister of the bride presenting her with an elegant chest of silverware.

The wedding was to have occurred on the 9th of May, but was postponed on account of the serious illness of the bride, she having typhoid fever. They left soon after the ceremony for their future home at Washington, Ind., where the bridegroom is well and favorably known, being bookkeeper for a large hardware firm.

Judge Stout to Lecture at K. U.

Judge Robert L. Stout, of the Circuit Court, has consented to deliver one or more lectures during the coming winter before the classes of the Kentucky University Law School, at Lexington. His subjects will be Professional Ethics. Judge Stout's high standards and training and his distinguished attainments will make his utterances on this subject of the greatest interest and value, not only to students, but to judges, practitioners and laymen as well.

For the next few months the franking privileges will be sadly overworked by congressmen who have important "official business" with their constituents.

The Assessor and the Dog Law.

It is possible that the Assessors of tax will get somewhat mixed up in their work, on account of the dog law, until recently the assessment of property was as of September 15th and the Assessor began his work at that time. By a recent law this time was moved up to September 1st and the Assessor begins then. The makers of the dog law probably had the old time of beginning, September 15th, in mind and placed that as the time for the assessment of dogs. If the Assessor begins his work on September 1st and cannot begin the assessment of dogs until September 15th, what of the list he has taken in the meantime? Will he omit the dogs or will he go back and assess them? A man may have a dog on September 1st and may get rid of him before the 15th.

Dog Works in Tobacco.

James T. Watts, a Boyle county farmer, has a dog that is a past master worker in tobacco. When his master and the other workmen enter the field to worm the tobacco the dog is first to take his place. He goes down his row and beats all of the rest across the field, and there is not a single worm to be found on the plants that he has gone over, as he hunts around among the different leaves, finds every one and kills it. The dog has been a faithful worker for the last four seasons in the crop. Last year he entered the field a little too early, while the paris green was still on the tobacco, and he became poisoned, but he was carefully treated and restored to health.

An Innovation at Maysville.

Spanking of naughty girls is an innovation introduced at Maysville by Judge Whittaker. Three colored girls were arrested for general misconduct, one of their favorite amusements being jostling ladies off the sidewalks and street crossings. He sent for the mothers of the wayward girls, and after explaining the nature of the offense, gave them the choice of spanking their daughters in the presence of an officer, whose duty it was to see that it was well done; or other wise the severest penalty of the law would be inflicted. They agreed to do the spanking, and did it in such a manner that it left a deep impression on both mind and body and though severe it is likely the punishment will have a lasting effect.

Greater Than San Francisco.

Unless the reports are greatly exaggerated the loss of life at Valparaiso by an earthquake was much greater than at San Francisco, and the destruction of property by fires that followed, reaches up into the millions. It was the San Francisco horror repeated. Thousand of people homeless and camping on the hill sides, with a scant supply of water and food.
